COVER STORY

MADHOUSE PARTY

THEY'RE DONE TALKING—
NOW THE HAWKS ARE BACK TO ON-ICE BUSINESS

Chicago Tribune

It happened while most of them were sleeping. Though for one, the news arrived right before he stepped onto the ice half a world away.

The email sent from NHLPA Executive Director Donald Fehr early Sunday that informed the Blackhawks and the rest of the NHL's players that a tentative agreement to end lockout had been reached set off a whirlwind of activity and emotions.

"I'm excited to play hockey again, although it's bittersweet because a lot of damage was done to our game," Hawks captain Jonathan Toews said via text. "As players we need to keep showing our fans we care. We might have a long road ahead of us there but for now it's great to know we'll be back on the ice very soon."

Exactly how soon still is being determined, but barring any last-minute hiccups among the legalese included in a new collective bargaining agreement, the Hawks know they will be embarking on a new season in the next two weeks.

"For the players and the fans it's great news," center Dave Bolland said. "I got up in the morning and my phone was going crazy. It was great to see that and it will be great to get back on the ice."

"For all of us, it showed it could have been done a long time ago, but you know how long these things take with lawyers and mediators."

Viktor Stalberg, who opted to play in Europe during the lockout, arrived at an arena in Russia and found out his regular job many time zones away was about to reappear. The winger played in Atlanta's 1-0 overtime loss to Minsk in the KHL before Stalberg hustled to his apartment to start packing for a trip to Chicago.

"Some part of me kind of kept saying 'it's going to get done somehow,'" said Stalberg, who plans to arrive in town Tuesday. "We were not that far apart and it's not worth losing a season over it and clearly both sides felt that too."

While it's expected no snafus will hold up the process, Hawks defenseman Steve Montador—a member of the NHLPA's negotiating committee—wasn't prepared to fully embrace the agreement.

"Until we have something that says this is what the deal is going to look like and it's in writing and signed off on both sides will I feel the lockout will have ended," he said.

If everything is signed, sealed and delivered without delay, the Hawks then will have to figure out how to prepare quickly for the season that likely will include a condensed schedule.

"It will take one or two or three games to get the kinks out," Bolland said. "The first one or two games will be a little ugly, but after that we'll get right back into it."

UNLOCKED: Some of the numbers behind the end of the NHL lockout

113 DAYS

The lockout spanned almost four months; it began Sept. 15 and ended Sunday.

16 HOURS

The length of the final bargaining session in New York between the players union and NHL owners. They agreed to a deal in principle around 4 a.m. Central Time.

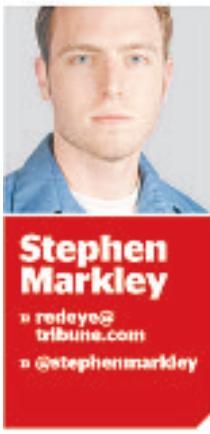

10 YEARS

The reported length of the new collective bargaining agreement, which must be ratified by the union and the NHL's Board of Governors.

48 TO 50

That's how many games each team likely will play in the abbreviated regular season, which reportedly will begin Jan. 16 or 19.

You may now kiss the minister

Stephen Markley

@redeye@tribune.com
@stephenmarkley

Over the holidays, I became an ordained minister and married my friends Megan and Eric.

Now I assume that any regular reader of this column will ask herself: What kind of self-loathing, mentally unhinged bride and groom would ask Stephen Markley to stand in front of all of their friends and family and say whatever he felt like—no edits, no second opinion, no notes—on the most important day of their lives?

"Hey, Stephen, I really liked that column you wrote about almost having a threesome. Would you want to pop off at the mouth and marry us? No F-words or 'Star Wars' references, please."

Well, Eric and Megan never got so much as a prior glance, so my ministry basically consisted entirely of references to Harrison Ford action movies. That's how the foundation of their marriage, and it was so good I'm surprised Eric didn't get Megan pregnant on stage.

The question is what should I do with this awesome power of ordained ministry I now possess? It occurred to me that I could start sneaking up on people and suddenly prank marry them. For instance, if this gay marriage bill passes the Illinois Legislature, I can run up between those men who used their last gasp of homophobia to oppose it and just marry them to each other while they're eating lunch. Then they'll have to figure out who's the bottom on the fly.

On the other hand, maybe I should just go into business for myself. Are you getting married any time soon? How would you like author and D-list Chicago celebrity Stephen Markley to perform your wedding ceremony? I'll charge less, and unlike 95 percent of religious ceremonies, I won't include any weird, misogynistic subtext. (I've been to few weddings where the minister essentially asks something like, "Sandra, do you take this man to be the father of your children and promise to allow him to pump as much seed into you as is necessary to create an army of God-fearing soldiers to fight the abortionists?")

All I'm saying is I'm at the age where I spend a lot of time going to weddings, and I view the movement toward marriage-by-irreligious-friend as the best thing to happen to marriage ceremonies since the invention of alcohol and bridesmaid dresses with cleavage.

Perhaps my favorite part of performing Megan and Eric's ceremony was that I really love those two.

Megan has been my friend since the seventh grade, and when she met Eric, he and I became close friends. When I married them, I could talk about the strength I saw in them and the hope I had for their lives together.

Instead of some expensive stranger imparting false, unearned wisdom who was ordained by a pseudo-corporation instead of the harder ordination of friendship, Megan and Eric had someone who will be there for them long after the applause faded and the church bells went quiet.

Also, I got in a reference to the part in "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" where the guy tears the other guy's heart out of his chest while it's still beating.

Now that's a wedding.

THE WEIGHT LOSS PROGRAM THAT FLAT OUT WORKS!!

MAKE 2013 THE YEAR THAT YOU FINALLY LOSE THE WEIGHT!

The numbers of people who lost weight and changed their lives on our program last year were staggering. But don't listen to me. Listen to them:

A brand new weight loss patient told me when I met her that no weight loss program has ever been able to make her lose even one pound. Well, listen to what she has to say about us:

"I've lost seventeen pounds in three weeks and I've never been able to lose weight before. This really works!"

A 57 year old man suffering from type II Diabetes and several other health problems has totally turned his life around after losing more than seventy pounds, twenty-nine inches off his waist and lowering his insulin from 100 units per day to only 15 units per day and then finally to zero.

"It used to take me a half hour to put on my shoes and socks and now it only takes a few minutes...I didn't used to be able to work out but now I'm able to do it whenever I want. I've been completely off my insulin for over a month!"

IF YOU ARE SERIOUS ABOUT LOSING WEIGHT AND CHANGING YOUR LIFE IN 2013, DO NOT MISS THIS FREE ONE-HOUR SEMINAR!!

Listen to what some of my other patients have to say:

"You've done for me what no other doctor could do. I've lost 47 pounds and I feel wonderful. This is very easy to do. I'll keep this up for the rest of my life."

"It's really hard to believe that 20 pounds can make a difference. Yes it can!... I dropped 20 pounds, 3 pant sizes and lowered my cholesterol from 298 to 205. Happy? Yes!"

"I was tired of being overweight. My clothes had become tighter and tighter and my C.O.P.D. was very bothersome. I've now lost 39 pounds. Having lost the weight I am breathing much easier and not needing to use my oxygen as frequently. I am very happy with this program."

"When I started I was a size 12 and now I'm a size 4!"

"I lost 22 pounds in the first three weeks alone!"

"I lost several inches off my waistline without even trying."

You may have seen my ads with the headline that reads "I CAN MAKE ANYONE LOSE WEIGHT." Well, after what we saw happen in our clinic last year, I definitely stand behind that. 2012 was an incredible year of weight loss for so many of my patients!

Not only can I make you lose weight, I can show you how to keep it off forever! In my years of practice I have found that helping people lose weight and keep it off is the one single thing that has the potential to create the most numerous changes in overall health problems.

If you are like most people, you have probably lost weight in the past only to gain it back and then some. The old yo-yo dieting syndrome. There is a reason for that and I'll show you what it is. There is no gimmick or quick fix that will ever make you lose weight permanently. This is the REAL THING!

I know there is a good chance you are dealing with Type II Diabetes, High Blood Pressure, High Cholesterol, Hypothyroidism, joint pain and possibly a number of other health conditions. Come spend one hour with me and I'll show you how you may be able to completely rid yourself of Type II Diabetes, and possibly throw away your blood pressure and cholesterol drugs forever. Whether you want to lose that last 10 pounds or you NEED to lose 100 lbs or more, I can show you how to do it.

If you are dealing with a weight problem I sincerely want to help you get your life back. Are you frustrated with trying so many gimmicks and still dealing with weight issues? Are you sick of the hype and false hope? Have you given up on losing weight? If you are serious about losing your weight once and for all, then call to reserve your seat right now. This one hour seminar could be the beginning of a new life for you. Don't miss it!

CYANIDE DEATH

Police investigate poisoning of North Side lotto winner

Urooj Khan

Chicago Tribune

Urooj Khan had sworn off playing the lottery after he took an Islamic pilgrimage to the Middle East in 2010, but as he stood in a 7-Eleven near his home on the Far North Side this summer, he lost his will for a moment, handing over $60 to buy two instant-game tickets.

After scratching off the second ticket, he leaped in the air, shouting over and over again, "I hit a million!"

When Khan accepted an oversize check from Illinois Lottery representatives days later at the same store with his wife and teenage daughter at his side, he spoke excitedly of how the winnings would help him grow his dry-cleaning business.

Instead, Khan is dead, a victim of an extraordinary poisoning, and police have a mystery on their hands: Did his lottery winnings create a motive for his murder?

Less than a month after winning the million dollars, Khan died suddenly on July 20 at the age of 47. Finding no trauma to his body and no unusual substances such as cocaine or carbon monoxide in his blood, the Cook County medical examiner's office declared his death to be from natural causes. He was buried at Roshill Cemetery.

But the Tribune has learned that Chicago police and county prosecutors are investigating Khan's death as a homicide.

In an interview, Medical Examiner Stephen J. Cina said that within a week of Khan's death a concerned relative asked his office to take a closer look at the case.

By early December, the medical examiner's office determined from comprehensive toxicology tests that Khan had died from a lethal amount of cyanide.

Now authorities are considering exhuming his body to try to find out how much cyanide he ingested or inhaled, Cina said.

While a motive has not been determined yet, police haven't ruled out that Khan was killed because of his big lottery win, a law enforcement source said.

Preliminary data from Chicago police show that in a violent 2012—with 513 people slain, according to RedEye reporting, the most since 2008—Khan was the only known homicide victim to be poisoned.

Instead of searching every social media platform, residents now can go to one place to find and track Chicago's mayor.

The mayor's office on Sunday launched Chicago Digital at digital.cityofchicago.org.

The site is designed to make it easier to find information and quicker for Chicago to learn about projects and apps, said Kevin Hauswirth, director of social media for the mayor's office.

A rundown of the features:

- » Latest digital news and tech projects
- » A chart to find all social media accounts (Facebook, Twitter, Pinterest, Flickr, etc.) of city departments and sister agencies
- » A library of YouTube videos and archive of live-streamed mayoral events
- » A photo gallery of pics uploaded to Instagram, Facebook and Twitter
- » Apps created by developers using data released by the city, such as an interactive map for flu shot locations
- » Resources including the data portal for app developers to build tools and connect to the tech community

In addition, the site will house the mayor's live Twitter stream as well as a Google map of his scheduled appearances, which can be followed via Foursquare.

EXPRESS LINES

» A man found dead inside a home where a fire had broken out Saturday evening on the Southwest Side died of smoke inhalation, authorities said.

» An early morning shooting Sunday on the Dan Ryan Expressway left a 22-year-old man dead and another man injured, authorities said.

» Kenneth Conley, the second inmate involved in the Dec. 18 Metropolitan Correctional Center jail-break, was captured Friday afternoon in Palos Hills, police said. TRIBUNE

State to sperm donor: Pay child support

4 TOPEKA, Kan. If you're planning to donate sperm in Kansas, you may want to do it through a doctor.

That's one message from the case of William Marotta of Topeka. In 2009, he noticed a Craigslist advertisement from a lesbian couple, also in Topeka, seeking donated sperm.

"Intrigued" by the ad, he agreed to donate and says he delivered three cupfuls of his sperm—gratis—to the women, one of whom gave birth to a daughter.

"I donated genetic material, and that was it for me," he said.

Or so he thought. That changed when the parents separated and one of the women stopped working because of illness and applied to the state for help, he said. The state contacted Marotta for child support.

Kansas officials were not persuaded by what Marotta says were agreements he signed before making his donations that he would assume no financial responsibility for the child, who now is 3 years old.

The Kansas Department for Children and Families said any agreement would not apply because a physician did not perform the insemination, which Marotta said was news to him.

His lawyer, Ben Swinnen, accused the state, where same-sex marriage is not legal, of being politically motivated in its pursuit of $6,000 from his client.

GETTY IMAGES

"The cost to the state to bring this case far outweighs any benefit the state would get," he said.

Marotta said he met the child once—a few months ago—when he and his wife by chance crossed paths with one of the girl's parents at a local carnival.

He said he had no intention of assuming a paternal role if he loses the case. "I'm not her parent," he said.

FROM 'RUDY' TO TAYLOR SWIFT, NOTRE DAME'S IMPRINTS ARE EVERYWHERE

① OCT. 4,
1940

The movie "Knutte Rockne, All American" co-starring Ronald Reagan as George Gipp, makes its debut. America's future 40th president later would dust off the famous "Win one for the Gipper" line—which Coach Rockne reputedly used in a halftime speech—as a political slogan.

② JAN. 24, 1987

When it comes to legendary quarterback Joe Montana, his four Super Bowl wins and national title with the Irish barely come to mind. OK, so that's not true, but Montana did host one of the best "Saturday Night Live" episodes ever. One of his best lines was in the sketch for "Sincere Guy Stu," in which he said, "I'll be in my room masturbating."

By Ryan Smith | FOR REDEYE

Notre who? If you're under age 30, you might be wondering why everyone is fussing over the Fighting Irish's return to the top of the college football heap. They haven't won a national championship since Ronald Reagan (who, coincidentally, starred as a Notre Dame player in a movie) was president. The best players to come from the program the past five years are a backup quarterback for the Kansas City Chiefs (Brady Quinn) and a guy who fled football for the Cubs (Jeff Samardzija). But with the 2012 Irish ready to meet Alabama in the BCS National Championship on Monday in Miami, Notre Dame Nation is back in full force—especially in Chicago, which is only a few thousand football fields from South Bend, Ind. Even if you don't know Knute Rockne from The Rock, you've probably seen Notre Dame's influence somewhere. Here is RedEye's a pop culture primer on the Golden Domers. RYAN SMITH IS A REDEYE SPECIAL CONTRIBUTOR.

③ OCT. 13,
1993

"Rudy" hits theaters. It's based on the story of Daniel "Rudy" Ruettiger (played by Sean Astin), an Illinois native and walk-on for Notre Dame who got a game-ending sack on the final play of his college career. The movie marked the film debut of Vince Vaughn, who remains a huge Notre Dame fan. It also spawned infinite chants of "Rudy! Rudy!"

④ MAY 16, 2001

The animated hit "Shrek" debuts in theaters. The filmmakers deny it, but according to urban legend, there are several visual references to Notre Dame in the movie. And no, it's not because Shrek's skin is as green as a four-leaf clover.

⑤ AUG. 20, 2004

Regis Philbin sets a Guinness World Record for "Most Hours On Camera." Not a small amount of that time was spent chattering on about his alma mater—you guessed it: Notre Dame—while a co-host of his "Live!" talk show with Kathie Lee Gifford and Kelly Ripa.

⑥ JUNE 7,
2005

In the action comedy "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," Brad Pitt's character, assassin John Smith, was an art history major at Notre Dame. Hmm, does "art history" not mean what we think it means?

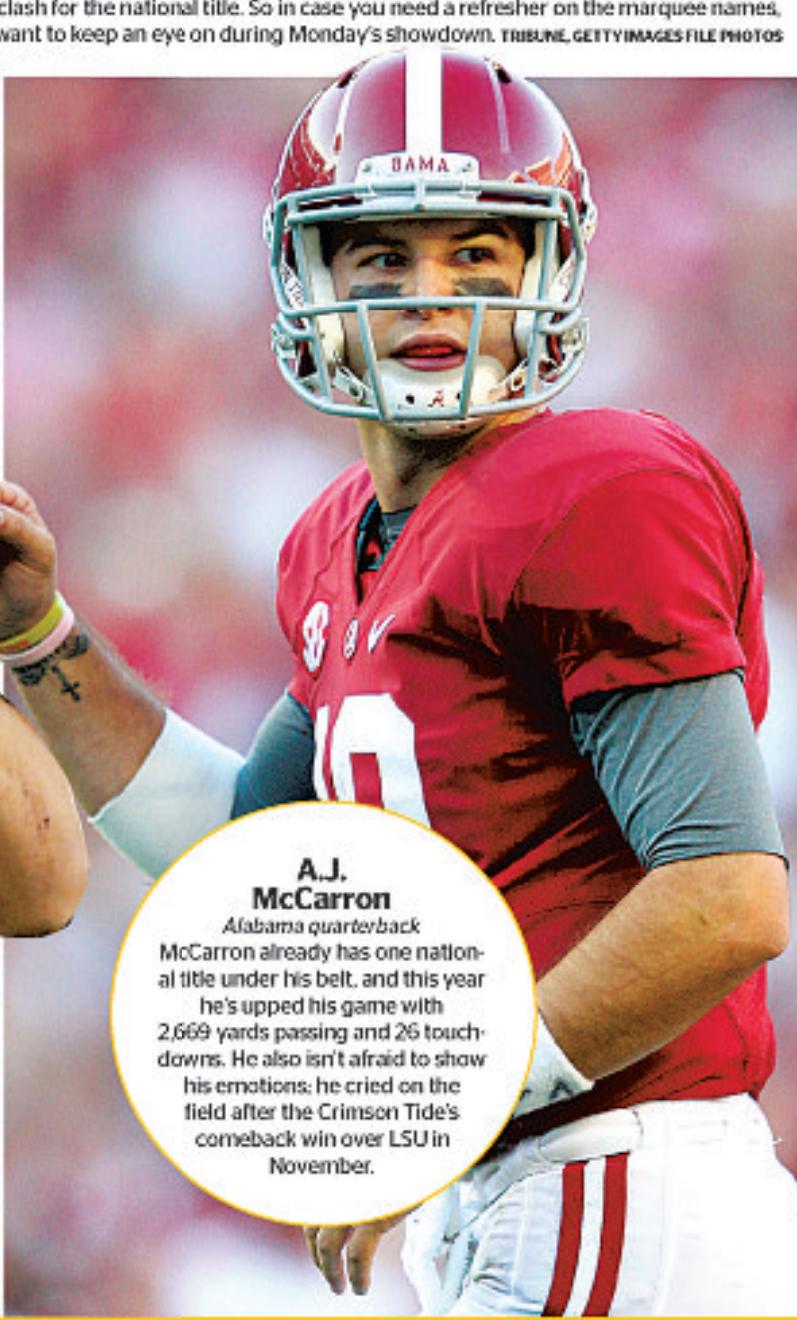

CLASH OF THE TITANS

It seems like months have passed since we learned Notre Dame and Alabama would clash for the national title. So in case you need a refresher on the marquee names, here are two players you'll want to keep an eye on during Monday's showdown. TRIBUNE, GETTY IMAGES FILE PHOTOS

Manti Te'o

Notre Dame linebacker
The Heisman Trophy runner-up amassed an astounding 103 tackles and seven interceptions as the Irish held opponents to 10.3 points per game, tops in the FBS. He's also true to his Hawaiian roots, as his suit at the Heisman ceremony will attest.

A.J. McCarron

Alabama quarterback
McCarron already has one national title under his belt, and this year he's upped his game with 2,669 yards passing and 26 touchdowns. He also isn't afraid to show his emotions: he cried on the field after the Crimson Tide's comeback win over LSU in November.

FAN OR FOE?

There's virtually no middle ground when it comes to Notre Dame; most fans adore the Irish or despise them. If you're on the fence, here are some arguments that might sway you. But that's up to you. REDEYE

Love the Irish ...

- » Is there any backdrop as unique as the "Touchdown Jesus" mural? (FYI, technically it's called "Word of Life")
- » Notre Dame players Gus Dorais and Knute Rockne invented the forward pass. And they perfected it while lifeguarding, no less.
- » The Irish have churned out 11 national titles and seven Heisman Trophy winners.

Love them not ...

- » Because of the school's cushy NBC contract, it refuses to join a conference for football. It also means the Irish avoid playing in a conference title game.
- » They run negative campaigns. Case in point, the "Catholics vs. Convicts" T-shirts made in reference to Miami players in 1988.
- » Former Irish coach Lou Holtz is annoying. Even if Notre Dame is playing a squad of NFL Pro Bowlers, the ESPN "analyst" picks the Irish.

⑥ SUMMER 2006

After playing the lead role in Mel Gibson's "Passion of the Christ," Jim Caviezel enrolls in a Spanish class at Notre Dame. Actor Jesus, meet Touchdown Jesus.

⑦ OCT. 3, 2006

In the pilot of NBC's "Friday Night Lights," star quarterback Jason Street is being heavily recruited by Notre Dame. And then he suffers a devastating injury in the episode.

⑧ MAY 18, 2008

Martin Sheen is honored at a Notre Dame commencement ceremony. Sheen, something of a superfan of the Irish, also is presented with a Notre Dame jacket to match the one worn by President Josiah Bartlet, his character on TV's "The West Wing." On the show, Bartlet is a Notre Dame grad.

⑨ SEPT. 4, 2010

Taylor Swift and Selena Gomez travel to South Bend to watch Notre Dame take on Purdue. But after Swift's brother Austin transferred to Vanderbilt the next year, it's very possible his famous sister is never ever getting back together with Notre Dame.

⑩ MAY 6, 2011

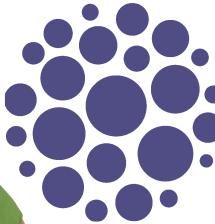

In the book and later in the romantic comedy adaptation of "Something Borrowed," Notre Dame plays a major role. Ginnifer Goodwin's character isn't accepted into Notre Dame law school, which is depicted as a crushing event because her competitive best friend (Kate Hudson) manages to get in.

⑪ JUNE 2011

Leonardo DiCaprio is spotted in a Notre Dame hat while hanging out with "Gossip Girl" star Blake Lively in Venice. So is Leo a fan? Well, considering he's also been seen wearing Michigan, UCLA, Louisville, South Carolina and Long Beach State caps, maybe he's just a fan of hats in general.

1 Now that the NHL's coming back, how do you feel?

Meh. I live in Lakeview. If I want to see hairy bros brawling in subzero temperatures, I can just look outside.

Amazing. So amazing in fact, that I just hip-checked a girl on the Blue Line.

If I had to sum it up in one word: WHOOOOOOOOOOOOO HOOOOOO!

That the Hawks still have a crappy goaltending situation.

Like Beyoncé just gave me a three-hour feather massage.

2 How will Patrick Kane celebrate the end of the NHL lockout?

With a nice cup of herbal tea and a good book, of course.

It's called a liquid steak. 1.5 oz of Bacardi 151 and a splash of Worcestershire sauce. He had four.

Go sober for a night, just for a change of pace.

Shots, shots on goal!

Partying at my place. And no, his mom is not invited.

3 Make a prediction for the BCS championship game.

Whoever wins, we (fans of a common-sense playoff system) lose.

See my column at redeyechicago.com. Long story short: RAMMER JAMMER YELLOW HAMMER.

I predict at least 200 "Rudy" references on my Facebook timeline before halftime.

Whichever team's coach has a tattoo of his own QB is the definite loser.

The Canadian Junior Hockey League will still draw better ratings up north.

4 Whom should the Bears consult in their search for a head coach?

The RedEye sports desk, naturally. We know everything.

Anyone not named Mike Ditka. It's time to move on, Chicago.

Donald Trump. That guy has been spot-on about just about everything lately.

Ask Lovie which offensive mind he likes. Then eliminate that coach.

Why. Manitoba's Israel Idonije, of course! He knows how to win in the cold.

5 Why did the Cubs bring back Dontrelle Willis?

They're pulling a real-life "Eastbound and Down," but without all the swearing and drugs and talent and such.

Because they obviously like giving the finger to their fans? I dunno, man.

Nostalgia?

Whatcha talkin' bout, Theo?!

Is he Donald Duck's French-Canadian cousin?

Whizzer's just warming up on his playoff predictions

You know me, loyal readers. I never run from my picks. Mostly because I hate running. I went 3-for-4 in my NFL wild card predictions, which is not what I wanted, but perfection's always lurking around the corner. As in, next week. Maybe.

BEARS (COACH) HUNTING

7 days since Lovie Smith's firing

If you're keeping count, the list of candidates has reached nine. According to ESPN, the Bears now have permission to speak with Houston Texans offensive coordinator Rick Dennison (left). This begs the question: Is Jay Cutler > Matt Schaub?

Go Daddy raises the Bar

Supermodel Bar Refaeli will co-star with NASCAR driver Danica Patrick in one of Go Daddy's two Super Bowl commercials next month. The mind races with possibilities. Will they compete against each other? Maybe on the racetrack? Or the runway? Whatever it is, we're in.

A massacre on your senses

FAST PAISED

Matt Pais

» @mattpais

Since its title lacks one particular word, "Texas Chainsaw" now almost sounds like a menacingly named barbecue joint with an unnecessarily aggressive style of cutting its meat, like an Iron Chef who took the name to extremes. The likewise technique-free (and pointlessly 3-D) "Texas Chainsaw" is just another attempt to replicate the twisted terror of Tobe Hooper's influential 1974 classic "The Texas Chain Saw Massacre" without most of the style that still makes it freaky.

After a shift at a grocery store that appears to exclusively employ hotties, Heather (Alexandra Daddario) learns she has a grandmother in Texas who passed away and left her a house. It's clear that Heather is the baby who was kidnapped following the slaughter in 1973—the new film opens with footage from the original and then a new scene, in which local vigilantes shoot Leatherface's family and burn down their house—ignoring the fact that would make Heather nearly 40 and well out of her midriff-baring mid-20s.

Not that continuity is a priority in this grisly effort from director John Luessenhop (who wrote and directed 2010's instantly forgotten "Takers"). By now Leatherface (Dan Yeager), who still has both arms to indicate that "Texas Chainsaw" imagines the squishy 2003 remake never happened, surely wouldn't be able to move so quickly in, what, his mid-70s? He'd at least have issues wielding the chainsaw as he attempts to pick off Heather and her vacationing friends, including Tania Raymonde as Standard Hot And Untrustworthy Co-Worker and R&B singer Tremaine "Trey Songz" Neverson as Heather's Muscular Boyfriend Who Can't Resist Hot And Untrustworthy Co-Worker.

Leatherface remains an unsettling villain; in isolated moments "Texas Chainsaw" recaptures the frenzied mania of Hooper's effectively cheap-looking shocker. More often this unnecessary sequel proves loud and thoroughly predictable. It's yet another modern horror flick more interested in the killer than the killed.

'Texas Chainsaw'

Literary Events and Offerings

Every Saturday, Chicago Tribune reaches more than 1.3 million Chicagoland adults. Tribune readers are book enthusiasts with over 1 million of all Saturday readers visiting a book store in the past twelve months. Not only are Chicago Tribune readers more likely to purchase books, but they also are 86% more likely to spend $200+ than the Chicagoland market average. For advertising rates and deadlines, please call 312-527-8061.

ROMANCE PLANET

BY JENNIFER SHEPHERD | READ MORE AT LIPSTICKMYSTIC.COM

Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19

With a new moon and a total of four planets in your sign, this is a great time to make a fresh start. Flirt with a sexy stranger. Make a down payment on a home. Adopt a pound puppy.

Cancer June 22-July 22

This isn't the best time to make a big move. Don't get engaged. Don't confess to a casual friend that you're madly in love with him or her. The moon urges caution.

Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Physical well-being is on your mind. If you're fat and flabby, do something about it. Mars says it's time to make yourself more appealing.

Pisces Feb. 19-March 20

You should have "the talk" with your honey. It's probably a good idea to let your girlfriend know that you aren't particularly interested in getting married. Saturn says be honest.

Aries March 21-April 19

You could be nursing a mad crush on someone—and when I say "mad," I mean "insane." The moon is increasing your unfortunate tendency to chase after an unsuitable potential partner. Do you really think you should date a professional escort?

Taurus April 20-May 20

The sun says it's time to get serious. If you're already married, it could be time to plan for a mortgage on a home in the suburbs and a life with three kids.

Gemini May 21-June 21

It will be easy for you to get in trouble with the moon opposite your sign. You might be tempted to look up a former flame online and invite him or her over for a casual hook-up.

Leo July 23-Aug. 22

Jupiter could increase your sense of anxiety about money. If cash flow has been tight, think about ways that you can create multiple streams of income. Work with your romantic partner to increase your financial well-being.

Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22

This is a great week to make amends. If you recently had an argument with your honey, you'll want to set aside those grievances. The new moon is telling you to let go of pointless anger.

Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23

Air signs like you tend to be bad with details. Right now you could be neglecting deadlines, payment dates or legal matters that require your attention. Jupiter says don't let fun get in the way of dealing with life stuff.

Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 21

You might become drawn to someone who is more attractive, wealthy or intelligent than you. Saturn is reminding you there are a lot of exciting people out there, and many of them are out of your league.

Sagittarius Nov. 22-Dec. 21

Your honey could be applying pressure, forcing you to do something. Jupiter is creating some competition. The two of you might be trying to figure out who gets to be the "boss."

Where did the famous and semi-famous spend New Year's Eve in the Chicago area?

NASCAR driver Danica Patrick (1) dined New Year's Eve at the newly opened Baume & Brix in River North before heading nearby to The Grid. "Cooler Than Me" singer Mike Posner (2) attended the Bulls-Charlotte Bobcats game at the United Center before performing at a New Year's party at the Hilton Chicago hotel. "Malcolm in the Middle" actor Chris Masterson DJed "Esquire Eve" at Chuck's Manufacturing in the Hard Rock Hotel. Musician Butch Walker also stopped by

Celebs rang in the new year in style

The Bears' Charles Tillman and former Bull Ben Goeden, now with the Bobcats, partied at Paris Club's upstairs club, Studio Paris, on New Year's Eve. The Bulls' Luol Deng and Taj Gibson (3) hung out Dec. 31 at The Underground—their second time there in three days—along with teammates Jimmy Butler and Marco Belinelli. The Bears' Kellen Davis had dinner at Japonais that night.

Speaking of the Bears, Zack Bowman (4) rang in the New Year at Toby Keith's I Love This Bar and Grill in Rosemont with "Hardcore Pawn: Chicago" cast members Nathan and Elyse Cohen. Bowman and singer Cathy Richardson, who has been touring with Jefferson Starship, separately attended the "Hardcore Pawn: Chicago" premiere party Tuesday at a private residence in the north suburbs (the show has TruTV's highest-rated series debut).

The Arizona Cardinals' Michael Floyd dined Dec. 31 at Tavern on Rush, while the New York Yankees' Curtis Granderson (5) celebrated the holiday for the second year in a row at Roots Handmade Pizza, where he is an investor. Nic Rouleau and his "The Book of Mormon" co-stars, currently performing at Bank of America Theatre through at least Sept. 8, celebrated at Drumbar in the Raffaello Hotel.
